“MADE IN AMERICA”
A brand new fashion directory featuring American-made vendors, resources and style icons

Manhattan (October 10th, 2011) From the founder of the Manhattan Fashion Directory comes a brand new directory –Made in America—a must-have annual resource book for the apparel industry containing and connecting America’s local vendors and producers for the apparel industry. Made in America will debut this December, 2011.

With the recent success of both the Manhattan Fashion Directory and the Melbourne Fashion Directory, founder Angelique Max was encouraged to create a resource book that promotes both the importance of buying American-made styles as well as serving as a directory and linking force between other vendors in this ever expanding market.

Angelique Max explains, “My goal is to create an online and print directory stamped with three simple words—Made in America. The apparel industry plays a very important role in American manufacturing and has restored jobs in the garment districts of both New York City and Los Angeles, as well as in small towns throughout America. My aim is to connect and strengthen the workforce by supporting local vendors and designers.”

Made in America will encompass all arenas of the fashion and apparel industry as well as include listings on local restaurants, farmer’s markets and producers of sustainable food products in the U.S. Made in America will also provide exclusive and insightful interviews with key American artists, designers and local manufacturers such as Chris Benz, Ultra Violet, Maripol, Steve Schapiro, Mark Romanek, and Fern Mallis amongst others.

Made in America will serve as a directory and list: Womenswear, Menswear, Denim, Vintage, Accessories, Shoes, Swimwear, Intimate Apparel, Tailors, Millinery, Cafés, Restaurants, Farmers markets and much more.

Made in America is sure to become an annual industry staple and the go-to resource book connecting anyone and everyone who truly loves and believes in American-made style.
